Forecast For Highland & Eilean Siar
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Sunday 13 Jun 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Mainly cloudy with some rain. Warmer, drier, brighter towards Inverness.

Today:
Western and central areas overcast with occasional rain or drizzle, also some fog patches in far west. Best of conditions around the northern end of the Great Glen where most stay dry, with temperatures feeling warm. Southwest winds occasionally strong. Maximum temperature 23 deg C (73 deg F).

Tonight:
Occasional rain early evening, which passes to east from late evening as clear spells and isolated light showers follow from west. Winds southwest strong, perhaps near gale across Hebrides overnight. Minimum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Monday:
Fresher day with temperatures well down from Sunday. Mix of brighter spells and occasional light showers, brought on brisk west to southwest winds, perhaps touching near gale initially in Hebrides. Maximum temperature 17 deg C (63 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Tuesday mainly dry and bright, but rain spreading from west late in day which clears to east early Wednesday. A mix of scattered showers and brighter spells thereafter.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.